3 of 4 people found the following review helpful. good bookBy furkidzThis is a well-written book regarding two people's journey from France to Jerusalem on horseback, following the route of the First Crusade. The account is rich with history, interesting characters met along the way, personalities of various horses, and adventure. Highly recommended to horse lovers and anyone interested in history.2 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Thanks for taking me with you!--I felt like I was there.By GloriaGreat service on the book. Although I'm not to Jerusalem yet...I'm loving every page. It's especially captivating for animal lovers and riders who enjoy the horses as much as the people in the book. Wonderful experience.0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Travel today like 1097By SamA unique story, Sevrin is a vivid writer.

In 1987, Tim Severin and his companion travelled on horseback from Belgium to Jerusalem, retracing the route of 11th century Crusader knights. This book combines travel, adventure, exploration and medieval history, as the author disproves historical theories which have been held for 900 years. His journey took him through a wide range of climates and terrain, from Germany, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia to the Anatolian Plains, Lebanon, the occupied territories and Jerusalem. Tim Severin is the author of "The Brendan Voyage", "The Sinbad Voyage", "The Jason Voyage" and "The Ulysses Voyage: Sea Search for the Odyssey". He has been awarded the Founder's Medal of the Royal Geographic Society.

About the Author Tim Severin was born in 1940 and educated at Tonbridge School and Oxford University. He has sailed a leather boat across the North Atlantic in the wake of Saint Brendan, captained an Arab sailing ship from Muscat to China, and steered the replica of a Bronze Age galley to investigate the stories of Jason and the Argonauts and Ulysses' Odyssey. He holds the Founder's Medal of the Royal Geographical Society, awarded in 1986 for outstanding services to exploration and geographic history. In 1988, the Royal Scottish Geographical Society presented him with the Livingstone Gold Medal. When not travelling Tim Severin lives in County Cork, Ireland.
