Ak Chowdhury : Falling Coconuts: A 5000 Mile Journey Around The Coast Of India From The Sunderbans To The Rann Of Kutch before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Falling Coconuts: A 5000 Mile Journey Around The Coast Of India From The Sunderbans To The Rann Of Kutch:

The author returns to his homeland and attempts to rediscover his country by travelling around the entire coast of India, something no one previously has completed. This is his accurate account of the travails, mysteries, and conflict with several alien cultures as he tries to come to grips with this impossible country. His love of the sea and nature makes this journey a frustrating mix of beauty and defilement.

About the AuthorThe author, a former physician, lives in Goa, India with his wife, travelling and fishing.
