So worth it!

In more than 100 stunning photographs in Four Seasons of Yosemite, A Photographer's Journey, Los Angeles Times photographer Mark Boster brings the eye of a 21st Century photographer and captures the magic of the national park's icons Half Dome, Yosemite Falls, El Capitan and others in color that Ansel Adams had celebrated in black and white. Foreword by Robert Redford. Includes DVD of Sundance Institute and Yosemite Conservancy documentary, Yosemite: the Fate of Heaven, narrated by Redford.

"After all these decades, just when we thought no photographer could possibly bring a new sense of wonder to Yosemite's iconic riches, Mark Boster has done just that. Here is inspired and inspiring imagery born of endless patience for the right light, a fleeting cloud, rising water and technical skill honed over a quarter century of devotion to the craft." (Jon Else, director, Yosemite: The Fate of Heaven) "As a passionate spectator of the beauty and majesty of the seasons shifting in Yosemite, I'm inspired by photographers who capture the essence of this awe-inspiring place and share it with a broader community. Mark Boster has done this, and more, with his photos. He represents Yosemite in all its grandeur as well as its remarkable details, like an ice crystal on a blade of grass. These masterful images transport me straight into the heart of the park." (Mike Tollefson, president, Yosemite Conservancy 2015-12-09)About the AuthorMark Boster has been a member of two Los Angeles Times Pulitzer Prize-winning teams and has won numerous other photography awards in his 28 years with the newspaper. He grew up in Southern California and has spent much time in Yosemite as a child and an adult. (2015-12-09)
