Alfred Gingold, Helen Rogan : The Cool Parents' Guide to All of New York: Excursions and Activities in and Around our City that your Children will Love and You won't Think are too Bad either (City and Company)
before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Cool Parents' Guide to All of New York: Excursions and Activities in and Around our City that your Children will Love and You won't Think are too Bad either (City and Company):

54 of 55 people found the following review helpful. The Ultra Cool Parents Guide to NYC By A Customer I just returned from a week+ trip to NYC with my 9 year old and I thought that this book was very helpful. The authors describe a number of day trips to take with your child, including dining suggestions. It gives you lots of things to do in a small area and in NYC that is VERY important. I liked the notes on how to get to places on the subway and the small maps that pointed out the location of each thing they suggested for that "trip". As an out-of-towner what I found most helpful were the tips on kid friendly restaurants. There are a millions places to eat in NYC and it was nice to go to places that had been kid tested and enjoyed by adults.

Cool parents Gingold and Rogan "offer tantalizing details on stuff you can't find in other guide books" said New York Magazine and the New York Times raved that the activities offered "are chosen as much for the pleasure of the parents as for the children." This completely revised third edition has many new entries.
