Charles Nicholl : The Creature in the Map: A Journey to El Dorado before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Creature in the Map: A Journey to El Dorado:

0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By William T. Gore Just as described and depicted. 0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Four Stars By Martin Fogel Great book, unusual tale of deceptions, adventure and downright dashing bravery! 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. I can't believe I'm the first to review this book By N. Gold This is a great book. Nicholl does a masterful job of weaving a complete manuscript from a handful of threads. Anyone interested in the psychology and madness of exploration should add this book to their reading list.

"This brilliantly written reconstruction of Sir Walter Raleigh's 1595 South American journey combines painstaking scholarship, vivid travelogue, and an intuitive sensitivity for the many meanings of the El Dorado myth. . . . Nicholl brings this six-week expedition to life. . . . A rare treat for both intellect and imagination."Kirkus Reviews"Walter Raleigh . . . was one of those Elizabethan all-rounders who still seem staggeringly larger than life. . . . Mr. Nicholl's cogent reconstruction of the journey uses Raleigh's own account, 'The Discoverie of Guiana'part truth, part advertising, part rhapsodyand much well-found ancillary material."Anthony Bailey, New York Times"Like The Reckoning, his brilliant account of the murder of Christopher Marlowe, Nicholl's new book might be called an exercise in historical conjuring. The Creature in the Map is an effort not only to analyse but also to call into presence the lived experience of the voyage Raleigh undertook in 1595 to the Orinoco Delta in what is now Venezuela."Stephen Greenblatt, Times Literary Supplement"Charles Nicholl belongs to an elite company, that of historians who know how to make research into arcane matters and distant times as engrossing as In Cold Blood or All the President's Men."Michael Dirda, Washington Post
