Matt Kirouac : The HUNT Chicago (The Hunt Guides) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The HUNT Chicago (The Hunt Guides):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. An eclectic insider guidebookBy dmThe HUNT Chicago is a refreshingly inspired and charming guidebook to many of the city's best kept secrets. Whether you're a newcomer to the city or a long-term Chicagoan craving an adventure without leaving town, The HUNT hooks you up with an expansive insider list of suggestions for experiences to fill your entire day, year-round. Having lived in Chicago for the past 12 years and being a person who specifically seeks out new spots to check out, I was delighted to learn just how much more of this city there still is to explore. I will definitely refer to this guide any time I find myself in the position of entertaining out-of-towners, or simply overwhelmed with the prospect of filtering through endless options on Yelp.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. when you're feeling uninspired about weekend plans or if you have out-of-towners visiting... it's also cleverly written so I don't feel like I'm reading an encyclopedia of Chicago activities! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. It was a great guide for my trip to Chicago

This book exceeded my expectations. It was a great guide for my trip to Chicago!

Instead of indiscriminately featuring everything and the kitchen sink, The HUNT team has donned our curatorial colored glasses and carefully selected 100 or so unique, authentic local Chicago businesses that range from eye-popping and brand spankin new to deeply patinated and way off the beaten track, funky and unexpected to chic and shiny. We'll help you negotiate the windy city and find its hidden gems and local favorites. Over the last decade, our guides have become the go-to source for a worldwide community of locals and travelers who seek out genuine, intriguing independent businesses.

About the Author
When it came time to move away for college, the choice destination was obvious to New Hampshire native Matt Kirouac: Chicago. After earning a culinary degree from Robert Morris University, he became a food writer, has written for various publications, and has served as the associate editor for Plate Magazine. Away from his laptop, Matt enjoys bowling, walking his dogs around Ukrainian Village and being overly competitive when playing video games with his husband.
Born in Detroit and raised in Chicago, Bradley Kirouac fell in love with photography in Mrs Belfs AP art class, which prompted and inspired him to explore art in a new medium behind the lens. Even while serving in the US Marine Corps, he was rarely seen without a camera. Bradley enjoys long walks down the aisles of local produce markets and sunsets at the drive-in. He enjoys playing video games with his overly competitive husband, but since hes a better loser, is happy to come in second.
